Please join us for a showing of an episode of
The popular television series
“GLEE”

The award-winning television show "Glee" is about a lot more than music and teenage angst. It touches on many subjects including religion in a serious sensitive and sometimes humorous way.

One episode in particular called "save Me Cheesus" deals in a very compelling way with the role of religion in our lives.

Once we screen this episode, Rabbi Plotkin will lead a discussion about the issues raised in the show. As is usual in the show, there is some great music, including a bit of Barbra Streisand's version of "Papa, Can You Hear Me?"

After the discussion there will be a chance for some snacks and socializing followed at 11pm by the selichot service.
